Disease Models & Mechanisms

"We were impressed by the active participation of the attendees, and the meeting's engaging content and networking opportunities made it a valuable event for showcasing our technology."

Hayoung Kang, Tomocube Inc. (previous meeting exhibitor)

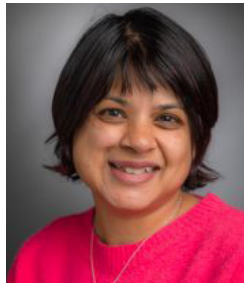

Meeting information

Cancer in children represents ~3% of the global incidence of cancer. Pediatric cancer exerts an outsized impact: beyond the physical and emotional toll on children, their families and the community, the number of years of productive life lost to pediatric cancers is proportionately higher than that of adult cancers. In the treatment of children and adolescents with cancer, multimodal approaches combining surgery, chemotherapy and radiation can cure many patients, but may cause lifelong health problems in survivors. Current therapies only modestly reflect increased knowledge about the molecular mechanisms of these cancers. Advances in next-generation sequencing have enabled unprecedented cataloguing of genetic aberrations in tumors, but understanding how these genetic changes drive cellular transformation, and how they can be effectively targeted, will require multidisciplinary collaboration and preclinical models that are truly representative of the in vivo environment. This meeting aims to focus on models and technologies that have the potential to transform our understanding of pediatric cancer.

"The Company of Biologists meeting we attended was well organised, with a line-up of world class scientific speakers, presenting the very cutting edge of research. The agenda was varied, and the inclusion of fabulous dinners enabled discussions with a wider variety of attendees, in a more relaxed setting. I'd definitely attend again."

Mike Day, Parse Biosciences (previous meeting exhibitor)

Meeting topics

- Innovative methods and resources for cancer research
- Preclinical analyses of candidate therapies
- New in vivo and in vitro models of pediatric cancer
- Computational models and use of AI

One day exhibition pricing is available on request.

Meeting dinner – $1,000

The main meeting dinner will be held on Wednesday 14 October. Your logo will be on the menus on each table. Your company logo with link will be detailed on the sponsors' page of the meeting website and you will be listed as a sponsor on the meeting app with your company logo, description and links. Your branded banner stands and signage can be on display along with your literature during the dinner.

Profile on meeting app – $400

Logo and company description and links on the meeting app. This is the best way to maximise exposure and ensure every delegate sees your information.

Poster session – $850 per session

The poster sessions will be held on Tuesday 13 and Wednesday 14 October and will be an ideal time to meet the delegates. Your logo and website link will be on the meeting website and you will be listed as a sponsor on the meeting app with your company logo, description and links. Your branded banner stands and signage can be on display along with your literature during this poster session.

Sponsored lanyards – $1,000

All delegates will be given a name badge attached to a lanyard to wear for the duration of the meeting. Your logo will be printed on the lanyard along with the logo for DMM. Your logo and website link will be on the meeting website as well as your company profile appearing in the meeting app.

Sponsored talk – $1,000

There will be an opportunity for your company to include a sponsored talk in the programme, giving you great exposure to all meeting delegates. Availability is limited, so please let us know at your earliest convenience if you are interested in this option. Your company logo with link will feature on the meeting website, and your logo, company description and links on the meeting app. The talk can be delivered in-person or virtually.

If you don't see a package that suits your specific needs, please contact us and we will be happy to help.
